Mr. Ed's Awesome News!

This Week

We had great week learning about the letter 'C'. Throughout the week we practiced making the letter 'C' sound by reading My 'C' Sound Box, sorting pictures out of our own sound box, singing along to our 'C' poem and playing the 'C' game on Starfall.com.

This week we began talking about Christmas. We felt sad to see all of our fall and forest decorations leave our classroom. Throughout the week we worked on making ornaments for a Christmas tree that has yet to arrive. Each day we looked around the room for any sign that we would get a tree. We read a story called Mooseltoe where they turned the daddy moose's mustache into a Christmas tree. After we read the story, we all created a section of a Christmas tree to hang on our front bulletin board. During our craft time we created many different ornaments using beads, stickers, paint and lots of sparkles.

On Tuesday, Miss Fran came in to talk to us about the Christmas seasons and sharing. After she told us a story about kids sharing ornaments, we decided it would be nice that we make ornaments to share with someone else. We decided we should share with Miss Carly at the Grand Island Library. On Friday, we surprised Miss Carly with a bag full of hand made ornaments to hang up at the library. She said she knew the perfect place for them. Be sure to stop by the library to check them out.

On Friday, we had a surprise delivery of a magical mailbox that has a direct line to the North Pole. We decided that since we did not have a Christmas tree, we would ask Santa to send us one and some decorations. We also sent along our own Christmas lists. Be on the lookout in the mail for a reply back from Santa!
